

Fall Cleanup and Environmental Program at Glenwood Landing Park

Saturday, November 19
9 am to noon

The Douglaston and Little Neck Historical Society invites you to join us at the Annual Fall Cleanup at Glenwood Landing Park sponsored by Westmoreland Association and NYC Parks. During the park cleanup, the DLNHS, through a grant from the Con Ed Foundation, will provide an educational program for participating children and their parents. The DLNHS will teach students about the importance of the local environment, about plants that are indigenous to the area, and invasive plants of the region. Participants will have an opportunity to plant some indigenous plants at Glenwood Landing Park and children will also receive a kit to grow their own plant at home.

Tools and work gloves will be provided.

The Westmoreland Association will provide free pizza for park cleanup volunteers.

Glenwood Landing Park is the triangular park located at the intersection of Glenwood Street and 39th Road in Little Neck, along the south side of the LIRR tracks.
